DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The amendment filed 3/24/2006 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The amendment adds the range of 500 to 700 degrees Celsius. There does not appear to be any support for this range in the Specification and claims as originally filed and the Applicant has not cited any support for the same.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because the Fig. designations are enclosed by brackets. See 37 CFR 1.83(u)(2). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 1616

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the Specification and claims, as originally filed, for the range of 500 to 700 degrees Celsius. The Specification was amended to include the same but as indicated above said amendment (3/24/2006) constitutes new matter. As such, said amendment cannot be the basis for the support of the claimed subject matter and the Applicant has not cited to other support for the claimed subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jones et al. (US Pat. 6,136,740).

Art Unit: 1616

Jones et al. discloses an aluminosilicate which calcined at a temperature of 500-750 degrees Celsius which can be used for various uses, including for storage and controlled release of pheromones (Column 2, lines 32-41, Column 5, lines 58-60).

The prior art discloses the combination of aluminosilicate which calcined at a temperature of 500-750 degrees Celsius with pheromones. The difference between the prior art and the claimed invention is that the prior art does expressly disclose said combination. However, the prior art amply suggests the same as the prior art discloses that said aluminosilicate can be used to store and provide controlled release of pheromones. As such, it would have been well within the skill of and one of ordinary skill in the art to add pheromones said aluminosilicate with the expectation that the combination would provide long term release of pheromones as desired.

Therefore, the claimed invention, as a whole, would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, because every element of the invention has been collectively taught by the combined teachings of the references.
